

The Elonex Pulse Container

An expanding container that deploys quickly with the push of a button

Ideal for roadshows, the Elonex Pulse Container is small enough to fit in most places, but large enough to provide a comfortable customer experience – and can even accommodate a vehicle if required.

This expanding container can be easily moved nationally or internationally using standard logistic equipment, and can be taken on roadshows with our fully electric HGV, to create a genuine green roadshow solution.

The contemporary design deploys quickly with the push of a button, with the unit expanding to over 15ft, and is 24ft long. The unit lowers to ground level for easy access and is ready for use in just a few minutes. It is also possible to integrate a car loading ramp in one end of the unit for loading a vehicle.

Don't settle for ordinary.
